About this book

This story is about doing basic daily tasks. Its repetitive nature and useful action phrases will provide learners with important and useful action phrases.

At Creative Free Source, we are trying to affirm and empower local kids and adults by having them illustrate some of our books. This process itself helps affirm their creative abilities and builds confidence. However, some of our books require illustrations by artists with more experience and expertise so that specific emotions, actions, scenes etc., can be conveyed more clearly to ensure clear communication.

Practical instructions

- Approximately 15 illustrations. See illustration instructions in italics.
- Any type of visual art can be used (paint, pencil, crayon, computer graphics, cartoon etc.) But, the more colorful and engaging, the better.
- The target audience is Indian children. Therefore, please try, if possible, to make characters look as Indian as possible, or Asian of some sort if you feel unable. Just don't draw blonde Westerners! Similarly, make environment/background look Indian if possible.
- Main character should be (roughly 5-10 years old). Make it a girl, unless this is difficult for some reason.
- It is up to the artist how many illustrations are exactly needed.
- Simplicity is okay and good.
- Make each illustration fit "generally" into a square shape for layout purposes.
- Add your own unique, creative style.
- If you have any ideas or questions, please e-mail us at creativefreesource@gmail.com.
- Please e-mail us to claim this project. Then e-mail illustrations to us. (creativefreesource@gmail.com)

Note to artist

Your time and artistic ability is valuable. We deeply appreciate your participation as you share your creative gift with the world in this way.

The artist will be given credit, but will not be paid. The final book will be created and stored by Creative Free Source and will be shared freely with all, but not for profit.

THE STORY: EVERY DAY

(Approximately 15 illustrations needed)

Every day I do these things...

First, I wake up.

Then I use the toilet. (Illustration: character points to a squatty potty toilet)

Then I take a bath. (Illustration: pour water over head and show above waist only)

Then I get dressed.

Then I eat breakfast. (Illustrations: plate of rice or roti, with banana in hand, so silverware)

Then I brush my teeth.

Then I walk to school.

Then I study, study, study!

Then I go back home.

Then I eat lunch. (Illustrations: Rice and curry, eat with hands)

Then I take a rest.

Then I play with friends.

Then I read a book.

Then I eat dinner.

Then I brush my teeth (Illustration: You can use earlier picture again)

Finally, I go to sleep.

THE END

* Simple black and white samples of one simple, Indian style.
(Don't let this constrain you though!)
